

Rock Solid Solutions Becomes an Allscripts Reseller

August 27, 2009

Rock Solid Solutions has announced today that it is officially a certified reseller of the Allscripts MyWay PM/EMR system for small practices.

Rock Solid Solutions provides IT support to all industries, but specializes in medical practices and will be reselling the Allscripts MyWay solution. “We evaluated a great number of EHR solutions before choosing Allscripts. During our investigation, the Allscripts solution quickly rose to the top of list. As the IT resource for small practices, it is our job to find partners and products like this to offer our clients,” says Shannon Williams, President of Rock Solid Solutions. MyWay uses the latest technology and is scalable for any specialty. It is simple, affordable and complete.

Rock Solid Solutions will be offering the MyWay solution in addition to other IT services, consulting, network design and support to offer a complete practice solution. The company even has resources that are proficient in data conversions and interface technology. Rock Solid Solutions is your One Call Technology Team.
